Grand Duchy of Luxembourg
(the "Company")

29 November 2024

Dear Mr. Guastamacchia,

The purpose of this letter is to set out the basis on which we are engaged to provide accountancy and other related services to the Company.

We are bound by the ethical guidelines of our professional body and therefore accept instructions to act for you on the basis that we will act in accordance with those ethical guidelines.

Period of engagement

This agreement will start with effect from 1 January 2025 and shall relate to the financial year ended 31 December 2024, as well as to following financial years. This agreement will be automatically be renewed, unless otherwise agreed.

Services

We shall undertake and bind ourselves in your favour to provide and fulfil the following services diligently:

(i) Maintenance of Company's accounts (including book-keeping and support with the accounting software/posting)
(ii) Assistance with the maintenance of the accounts of the special purpose vehicles for which the Company acts as general partner;
(iii) Preparation of Management Accounts of the Company;
(iv) Assistance with the preparation of Management Accounts of the special purpose vehicles for which the Company acts as general partner;
(v) Support with the Auditors in relation to the special purpose vehicles for which the Company acts as general partner.

Professional rules and practice guidelines

We are bound by the ethical guidelines of our professional institute and accept instructions to act for the Company on the basis that we will act in accordance with those ethical guidelines. In particular, you give us authority to correct Inland Revenue errors. A copy of these guidelines is available for your inspection in our office.

Retention of records

(i) During the course of our work we will collect information from yourselves and others acting on the Company's behalf and will return any original documents to you following the preparation of the company's corporation tax return. You should retain the Company's records for ten years following the end of the accounting year. This period may be extended if the Inland Revenue enquire into the Company's tax return.

(ii) Whilst certain documents may legally belong to the Company, unless you tell us not to, we intend to destroy correspondence and other papers that we store which are more than ten years old, other than documents which we think may be of continuing significance. You must advise us if you require retention of a particular document.

Regulatory requirements

We reserve the right to disclose our files to regulatory bodies in the exercise of their powers.

Quality of service

(i) We aim to provide the best possible service to our clients. If you would like to discuss how our service could be improved, please let us know.

(ii) We undertake to look into any complaint carefully and promptly and do all we can to explain the position to you. We will do everything reasonable to put matters right. Prompt communication enables us to take prompt action on your behalf.

(iii) Should you at any stage feel that you have not received an adequate response to a complaint the circumstances should be brought to our attention.

Fees

(i) Our fees are computed on the basis of the time spent on your affairs and according to the levels of skill of the persons in providing the services and on the related degree of responsibility involved.

(ii) Our invoices are payable on presentation. Invoices will be issued on a quarterly basis at the end of each quarter. We reserve the right to charge interest at the maximum allowed by law in the case of overdue accounts. We may terminate our engagement and cease acting if payment of any fees billed is unduly delayed. However, it is not our intention to use this arrangement in a way that is unfair or unreasonable.

(iii) New and/or additional work would not be commenced until any overdue fees have been settled.

(iv) Our fees, excluding VAT and any disbursements will be related to the nature of the services provided as described in detail in the document attached herewith and marked "Appendix A". Such fees will be subject to review by us every year.

Limitation of liability

(i) The advice that we give to you is for your sole use and does not constitute advice to any third party to whom you may communicate it.

(ii) We will provide the professional services outlined in this letter with reasonable care and skill. However, we will not be responsible for any losses, penalties, surcharges, interest or additional tax liabilities arising from the supply by yourselves or others of incorrect or incomplete information, or from the failure by yourselves or others to supply any appropriate information or your failure to act on our advice or respond promptly to communications from us or the tax authorities.

Electronic communication

As internet communications are capable of data corruption we do not accept any responsibility for changes made to such communications after their dispatch. Electronic transmission of information cannot be guaranteed to be secure and such information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost and destroyed. For this reason, it may be inappropriate to rely on advice contained in an e-mail without obtaining written confirmation of it. All risks connected with sending commercially sensitive information relating to your business are borne by yourselves and are not our responsibility. If you do not accept this risk you should notify us in writing that e-mail is not an acceptable means of communication.

Confidentiality

We undertake and bind ourselves in your favour:

(i) not at any time or after the termination of this engagement to divulge or allow to be divulged to any person or entity any confidential information
(ii) to ensure that no officer, employee, agent of, or any other person divulges any confidential information

This provision and the obligations that arise shall survive the expiration of this engagement for a period of time being not less than five (5) years from the said expiration.

Money Laundering Regulations

In accordance with The Prevention of Money Laundering Regulations 1994 you acknowledge that if during the course of an engagement a suspicion of any crime (including but not exclusively fiscal crime) is encountered, we are required to report this directly to the responsible authorities without prior reference to yourselves or your representatives. It should be noted that due to this legislation your right to confidentiality is waived to the extent of such a report.

Data Protection Act

In order to discharge the service under this agreement and for any related services we may obtain, use, process and disclose personal data about yourselves. You have the right of access under the above legislation to the personal data we hold about yourselves. Any such information provided to us will only be used for the purposed detailed in this engagement letter.

Applicable law

This engagement letter shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, Maltese law. The Maltese Courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction in relation to any claim, dispute or difference concerning the engagement letter and any matter arising from it. Each party irrevocably waives any right it may have to object to an action being brought in those Courts, to claim that the action has been brought in an inconvenient forum, or to claim that those Courts do not have jurisdiction.

Agreement of terms

(i) Once it has been agreed, this letter will remain effective from the date of signature until it is replaced. Either party may vary or terminate our authority to act on your behalf at any time without penalty. Notice of termination must be given in writing.

(ii) Would you please confirm your agreement to the terms set out by this letter by the directors signing and returning the enclosed copy. Please contact us if they are not in accordance with your understanding of our terms of engagement.

Yours faithfully,

Ms. Giulia Salani
For and on behalf of Kaikei International Limited

We agree to the terms of this letter and accept the conditions set out therein.
